Valuable Citizens Move Away

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Whitt have moved to Winchester this week where they will occupy their beautiful home recently purchased there. These progressive people will be greatly missed from our town where for the past eighteen years they have lived among us.

Mr. Whitt came here when in his teens and took a position in the Clay City National Bank, under J. F. Cox, then cashier. Three years later Mr. Cox went to Louisville and organized the Union National Bank, and Mr. Whitt was then made Cashier of the Clay City National, and held that position until last year when he was elected President. The bank under him grew and prospered as no other bank in similar territory.

As an illustration: There are two banks in Powell county; allowing each bank one-half the territory for business, the last bank report of the Clay City National, showing $513,430 deposits, we find there is more than $122 for each man, woman and child deposited in this bank, when it is learned that the average assessable property is less than $400 for each person in this territory, the figures become very interesting in favor of the last bank report of the Clay City National under the active presidency of Mr. Whitt. By referring to an old report of this bank when taken hold of by Mr. Whitt we learn that business has increased tenfold. It is most certain no other bank in the country has done so well, as we said before, "in similar territory." But Mr. Whitt is qualified to manage larger affairs, and so he has been called to the Presidency of the Winchester Bank, where, according to a statement in our issue last week, the deposits amount to more than one and one-half million dollars. Just three times the business of the bank he leaves.

During the five months past since when Mr. Whitt has been performing his duties at the Winchester Bank, he has gone back and forth in his automobile, carrying, free of all costs, passengers of both high and low estate. He has done this with pleasure. He has ever been solicitous to his friends in his old home to call at his bank when in Winchester and make their headquarters with him.

Our best wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Whitt go with them to their new home and we heartily commend them to the progressive and good people of Winchester.

Dies in Clark County

Alta Lee, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heflin, died at their home on the Boonesboro pike near Winchester Sunday evening from a ten days' attack of pneumonia. Burial in Winchester cemetery Tuesday. Funeral services at Winchester Baptist church by Dr. C. M. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Heflin moved from this county to Clark about fifteen years ago. Their many friends here sympathize deeply with the bereaved family.

Wants Fifty Million Road Bonds

Governor Morrow in a special message to the Legislature recommends the passage of a measure submitting a vote to the people on the question of issuing $50,000,000 in bonds to build the primary system of roads projected and to pay the State aid on what has been built. The proposition is planned to appropriate the present yearly road fund to pay interest and retire the bonds in thirty years.

"Primary" doesn't sound good to The Times. If we get it right, it is expected to consume the fifty million on the system of roads already mapped out. It will then take thirty years to pay these bonds. This will mean but one road for Powell, part of which is done built.

This plan is all right for counties like Clark, Fayette and others where quite a number of roads are in the "primary" system, but in counties like Powell where there is but one project it means—naught.

If The Times has the wording of the bill properly interpreted and we feel sure we have, we shall oppose the measure.

The Boosters

The Times is pleased to call the attention of its readers to the boosters of Mt. Sterling and Winchester business men in this issue. These people want to get better acquainted with Powell county people, and through Mr. B. I. Geyer, a professional write-up man, arranged three weeks ago for the appearance of these articles in the Powell county paper, forty-one of which appeared in the issue of January 5th, and twenty-six in this week's paper. Of course none but the best business people of these towns secured space.

Freight on Coal Advances

Just as the Government war tax was taken off, the railroads, we are informed, made a slight increase in freight on coal from the mines to Clay City. This is evidently very agreeable with the powers in control, take the tax from the Government and give it to the railroads. They need the money, and the people, at this time at least, are able to pay the bill.

Moves to Take Charge of Mill

Richard Jordon has moved here from Winchester and taken charge of the Clay City Roller Mills. Mr. Jordon is one of the best millers in Kentucky, thus it goes without saying that this mill will soon be turning out the best flour to be made anywhere.

Bazaar at Christian Church

The ladies of the Christian church will give a bazaar on Saturday before Easter Sunday and dispose of various articles for the benefit of the church.

Sheriff's Tax Sale

Ex-Sheriff Wm. Garrett is advertising a delinquent tax sale in this issue of The Times. The sale will take place court day in February.

"Farmers' Sales Day"

The business men of Clay City and the farmers and drovers in close proximity have arranged for the holding of monthly live stock sales in Clay City. The date for such sales has been fixed as each third Saturday, or Saturday before the third Monday in each month. This date has been selected to allow buyers to come here, look over the cattle offerings and proceed to the Mt. Sterling market on the Monday following. Farmers who expect to have live stock here are requested to list the same and file it with the Clay City Times and the same will be published on Thursday before the sale that buyers may know what the offerings will be. Lots will be provided free and weights will also be without cost to sellers. This is a very commendable project and should be a success.

Goes to Winchester

Eugene Freeman, who has been a prominent figure at the Clay City National Bank for the past four years, has resigned his position and goes to the Winchester Bank to occupy a similar position there. The good people of Clay City and the patrons of the bank regret that Mr. Freeman will leave the post he has held here. He is a young man of unusual cheerful disposition and full of miscellaneous accommodations.

Postoffice Examinations

Examination will be held at Winchester February 11th for applicants for the Clay City postoffice which became vacant July 1st last year. The salary of the Clay City office is now $1200 per year with pay for one assistant, rent, fuel and lights.

Ship Hogs by Truck

The excessive freight rates for live stock as well as other lines of freight has put the live stock truck to rolling. One was here this week and hauled a load of hogs that W. C. Taylor purchased of H. G. Crabtree.

Rebuilding Residence

Hubert Adams, who two weeks ago had the misfortune to lose his house near Brodhead-Garrett's mill together with all its contents by fire, is rebuilding and has the framework up and the roof already on.

Ford Prices Down

The prices on all Fords have taken another drop, though only about ten dollars to the car. But a ten dollar drop now is as important with many people as one hundred was two years ago when times were better.

Townsend Getting Better

Sherman Townsend who is getting along very well is still unable to sit up any. He indeed has had a close call, and it is surprising to many that he is pulling through.

Monday was Mt. Sterling court day and the usual aggregation of Powell farmers attended.

Engineers Completing Job

The highway engineers are winding up the survey of the road through this county by obtaining the names of the property owners along the route. The road is to be changed leaving this city. It will be built through Whitt's place, crossing the river below the railroad bridge. This does away with both railway crossings, and from Clay City on through the county the survey crosses the river but once, and that is at Slade where they cross to go into Wolfe county. The change in this city is very acceptable to our people and we hope to see it built as surveyed. The next question is when will the dirt begin to fly?

To Feed Cattle

Edwin Rose has brought up forty cattle from his farm in Clark county to feed. These cattle have been running on grass up until this date and have done well owing to the open winter.

The Fiscal Court will have a meeting shortly to confer with state authorities on the road through the county. The county will have to pay for all the right-of-way which will probably cost $30,000.

Railroads' Free Advertising

The railroads are getting all the free space they can in the form of pretentious "valuable reading matter". Of course The Times does not bite at railroad bait, but for the benefit of our readers we find that these roads in this matter admit they made more than 6% on their rated stock in 1916 which was before the rates went up almost double, while in 1920 after the rates went up these roads claim to not have earned 1%.

These statements prove one or more things:

1st. The excessive rates have prohibited shipping and made the higher rates lower the profits.

2nd. Or the stock may have been watered to show the deflated conditions.

3rd. Or the whole statements are false.

As a concrete example, if when the railroads carried a can of cream to market from Clay City for 27 cents and made more than 6 per cent on their investment, while now they charge 45 cents and do not make one per cent, it is high time the authorities lower their rate before the railroads go into bankruptcy.

2nd thought. In 1916 when the railroads made 6 per cent, the Government did not guarantee 6 per cent on their investment. In 1920 the government did guarantee 6 per cent. Of course, the roads did not think of this, but, the Government will have a big bill to pay to make up the 6 per cent in 1920.

- To shoulder a deserved blame,

Chiropractic

R. A. Riggs

With Office in Winchester, is One of the Leading Professional Men in This Section and has an En enviable Reputation for Pro-Efficiency and Fair Dealings.--Lady Attendant.

The practice of this well-known chiropractor is increasing with rapid strides until he is today considered one of the leading professional men of this section, and he is consulted by many engaged in this same line of work, having had many years of experience in this profession.

Science has made great advances in the last few years, and many of the old fashioned ideas have been discarded for the new results of science.

He has adequate training to practice his profession most successfully. He is a graduate of the Palmer College of Chiropractic, which has a student capacity of 6618, covering four solid city blocks in the heart of Davenport, Iowa. Previous to this time he received a general and special education which was designed for the purpose of fitting him for the work that the science and art of Chiropractic entails.

His practice has increased by strides until he was compelled to have the assistance of Dr. O. W. Swofford, who you will find at the office. People go to his office weekly to consult him, from all parts of this and adjoining counties. The great work he is doing in the relief of suffering is phenomenal. Then, again, his patients come from the very best class of people—people of standing in the community in which they live.

We are pleased in this review to compliment him upon the merited success he is making in the practice of his profession, and upon his excellent standing in the professional world.

SHE IS "FULL OF PEP" THEY SAY

She is Good-Looking and Gay and is Always Ready for a Good Time

Why is a girl popular? Look around and see what a good time the good-looking ones have all the time. Men seek them out and ask them to parties, dances and entertainments. And notice that it is not the doll-face type real men like most, but the red-blooded girl with "pep" and happy good nature. Any girl who is tired and languid and has a poor complexion and dull eyes can improve her condition and be far happier if she will simply take Gude's Pepto-Mangan until she has put her blood into good condition. Red blood means "full of life" and "full of life" usually means happiness.

Try Gude's Pepto-Mangan and see how much better you feel. Doctors have used it nearly thirty years for weak, run-down people. It helps them get well. Sold in both liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.

To Ease Up on M. D.'s

The scarcity of physicians in Kentucky occasioned by the rigid and lengthy schooling required has curtailed the supply so acutely that it is probable the present session of the Legislature will ease up on the study to get diplomas so that more young men will be induced to prepare themselves for M. # Some Aspects of the Farmers' Problems

By BERNARD M. BARUCH

(Reprinted from Atlantic Monthly)

The whole rural world is in a ferment of unrest, and there is an unparalleled volume and intensity of determined, if not angry, protest, and an ominous swarming of occupational conferences, interest groupings, political movements and propaganda. Such a turmoil cannot but arrest our attention. Indeed, it demands our careful study and examination. It is not likely that six million aloof and ruggedly independent men have come together and banded themselves into active unions, societies, farm bureaus, and so forth, for no sufficient cause.

Investigation of the subject conclusively proves that, while there is much overstatement of grievances and misconception of remedies, the farmers are right in complaining of wrongs long endured, and right in holding that it is feasible to relieve their ills with benefit to the rest of the community. This being the case of an industry that contributes, in the raw material form alone, about one-third of the national annual wealth production and is the means of livelihood of about 49 per cent of the population, it is obvious that the subject is one of grave concern. Not only do the farmers make up one-half of the nation, but the well-being of the other half depends upon them.

So long as we have nations, a wise political economy will aim at a large degree of national self-sufficiency and self-containment. Rome fell when the food supply was too far removed from the belly. Like her, we shall destroy our own agriculture and extend our sources of food distantly and precariously, if we do not see to it that our farmers are well and fairly paid for their services. The farm gives the nation men as well as food. Cities derive their vitality and are forever renewed from the country, but an impoverished countryside exports intelligence and retains unintelligence. Only the lower grades of mentality and character will remain on, or seek, the farm, unless agriculture is capable of being pursued with contentment and adequate compensation. Hence, to embitter and impoverish the farmer is to dry up and contaminate the vital sources of the nation.

The war showed convincingly how dependent the nation is on the full productivity of the farms. Despite herculean efforts, agricultural production kept only a few weeks or months ahead of consumption, and that only by increasing the acreage of certain staple crops at the cost of reducing that of others. We ought not to forget that lesson when we ponder on the farmer's problems. They are truly common problems, and there should be no attempt to deal with them as if they were purely selfish demands of a clear-cut group, antagonistic to the rest of the community. Rather should we consider agriculture in the light of broad national policy, just as we consider oil, coal, steel, dye-stuffs, and so forth, as sinews of national strength. Our growing population and a higher standard of living demand increasing food supplies, and more wool, cotton, hides, and the rest. With the disappearance of free or cheap fertile land, additional acreage and increased yields can come only from costly effort. This we need not expect from an impoverished or unhappy rural population.

It will not do to take a narrow view of the rural discontent, or to appraise it from the standpoint of yesterday. This is peculiarly an age of flux and change and new deals. Because a thing always has been so no longer means that it is righteous, or always shall be so. More, perhaps, than ever before, there is a widespread feeling that all human relations can be improved by taking thought, and that it is not becoming for the reasoning animal to leave his destiny largely to chance and natural incidence.

Prudent and orderly adjustment of production and distribution in accordance with consumption is recognized as wise management in every business but that of farming. Yet, I venture to say, there is no other industry in which it is so important to the public—to the city-dweller—that production should be sure, steady, and increasing, and that distribution should be in proportion to the need. The unorganized farmers naturally act blindly and impulsively and, in consequence, surfeit and dearth, accompanied by disconcerting price-variations, harass the consumer. One year potatoes rot in the fields because of excess production, and there is a scarcity of the things that have been displaced to make way for the expansion of the potato acreage; next year the punished farmers mass their fields on some other crop, and potatoes enter the class of luxuries; and so on.

Agriculture is the greatest and fundamentally the most important of our American industries. The cities are but the branches of the tree of national life, the roots of which go deeply into the land. We all flourish or decline with the farmer. So, when we of the cities read of the present universal distress of the farmers, of a slump of six billion dollars in the farm value of their crops in a single year, of their inability to meet mortgages or to pay current bills, and how, seeking relief from their ills, they are planning to form pools, inaugurate farmers' strikes, and demand legislation abolishing grain exchanges, private cattle markets, and the like, we ought not hastily to brand them as economic heretics and highwaymen, and hurl at them the charge of being seekers of special privilege. Rather, we should ask if their trouble is not ours, and see what can be done to improve the situation. Purely from self-interest, if for no higher motive, we should help them. All of us want to get back permanently to "normalcy," but is it reasonable to hope for that condition unless our greatest and most basic industry can be put on a sound and solid permanent foundation? The farmers are not entitled to special privileges; but are they not right in demanding that they be placed on an equal footing with the buyers of their products and with other industries?

II

Let us, then, consider some of the farmer's grievances, and see how far they are real. In doing so, we should remember that, while there have been, and still are, instances of purposeful abuse, the subject should not be approached with any general imputation to existing distributive agencies of deliberately intentional oppression, but rather with the conception that the marketing of farm products has not been modernized.

An ancient evil, and a persistent one, is the undergrading of farm products, with the result that what the farmers sell as of one quality is resold as of a higher. That this sort of chicanery should persist on any important scale in these days of business integrity would seem almost incredible, but there is much evidence that it does so persist. Even as I write, the newspapers announce the suspension of several firms from the New York Produce Exchange for exporting to Germany as No. 2 wheat a whole shipload of grossly inferior wheat mixed with oats, chaff and the like.

Another evil is that of inaccurate weighing of farm products, which, it is charged, is sometimes a matter of dishonest intention and sometimes of protective policy on the part of the local buyer, who fears that he may "weigh out" more than he "weighs in."

A greater grievance is that at present the field farmer has little or no control over the time and conditions of marketing his products, with the result that he is often underpaid for his products and usually overcharged for marketing service. The difference between what the farmer receives and what the consumer pays often exceeds all possibility of justification. To cite a single illustration,

A Rat Breeds 6 to 10 Times a Year, Averaging Ten Young to a Litter.

Remember this, act as soon as you see the first rat. Get a pkg. of RAT-SNAP. It's a sure rat and mice destroyer. It's convenient, comes in cake form, no mixing. Mummifies rat after killing—leaves no smell. Cats or dogs won't touch it. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by J. F. Smith & Co. and C. Shimfessel.

Last year, according to figures attested by the railways and the growers, Georgia watermelon-raisers received on the average 7.5 cents for a melon, the railroads got 12.7 cents for carrying it to Baltimore and the consumer paid one dollar, leaving 79.8 cents for the service of marketing and its risks, as against 20.2 cents for growing and transporting. The hard annals of farm-life are replete with such commentaries on the crudeness of present practices.

Nature prescribes that the farmer's "goods" must be finished within two or three months of the year, while financial and storage limitations generally compel him to sell them at the same time. As a rule, other industries are in a continuous process of finishing goods for the markets; they distribute as they produce, and they can curtail production without too great injury to themselves or the community; but if the farmer restricts his output, it is with disastrous consequences, both to himself and to the community.

The average farmer is busy with production for the major part of the year, and has nothing to sell. The bulk of his output comes on the market at once. Because of lack of storage facilities and of financial support, the farmer cannot carry his goods through the year and dispose of them as they are currently needed. In the great majority of cases, farmers have to entrust storage—in warehouses and elevators—and the financial carrying of their products to others.

Farm products are generally marketed at a time when there is a congestion of both transportation and finance—when cars and money are scarce. The outcome, in many instances, is that the farmers not only sell under pressure, and therefore at a disadvantage, but are compelled to take further reductions in net returns, in order to meet the charges for the service of storing, transporting, financing, and ultimate marketing—which charges they claim, are often excessive, bear heavily on both consumer and producer, and are under the control of those performing the services. It is true that they are relieved of the risks of a changing market by selling at once; but they are quite willing to take the unfavorable chance, if the favorable one also is theirs and they can retain for themselves a part of the service charges that are uniform, in good years and bad, with high prices and low.

While, in the main, the farmer must sell, regardless of market conditions, at the time of the maturity of crops, he cannot suspend production in toto. He must go on producing if he is to go on living, and if the world is to exist. The most he can do is to curtail production a little or alter its form, and that—because he is in the dark as to the probable demand for his goods—may be only to jump from the frying pan into the fire, taking the consumer with him.

Even the dairy farmers, whose output is not seasonal, complain that they find themselves at a disadvantage in the marketing of their productions, especially raw milk, because of the high costs of distribution, which they must ultimately bear.

Teamwork for Our Town

You can't, my friend, help out your town by running your own neighbors down. And knocking things about you; And if you are just bound to scoff The town would be much better off To ride along without you.

Don't just sit round and warm the roost But be a man, get out and boost For things that promise better; And in the civic betterment Don't ever, ever be content To be your city's debtor.

The North Pole, we have also learned while delving into newspaper astronomy, is moving south, but well bet three to one that the price of ice remains stable.

Many people are buying silk stockings with the interest on money which their grandparents laid up by going barefooted.

Child Suffered Twelve Years

Many children who are healthy and strong otherwise suffer from distressing kidney trouble or bladder weakness. Mrs. H. Stegall, Theodore, Ala., writes: "My child suffered 12 years with weak bladder. I tried several doctors and remedies without result. Foley Kidney Pills gave her relief."—Sherman Robbins & Sons local agents.

Jail to be Repaired

The Powell Fiscal Court met at Stanton Tuesday and let contract with the Panley Jail Company to line the County Jail at Stanton with hard steel such as can not be cut nor sawed unless heated. The contract price for this work is $4,000. This jail has become unsafe and had to be repaired. It is too costly on the county to have to keep its prisoners at Winchester and pay transportation on them there and return. A new concrete floor is also included in the contract.

Business Review By Geyer.

Betty M. Roberts

Located at Mt. Sterling conducts a Very Modern Up-to-Date Millinery Store and Carries at all Times a large Stock for the Accommodation of This and Adjoining Counties.

This is one of the leading millinery establishments in this section under most competent direction and has the reputation of offering chic millinery and many smart hats have been turned out from this shop.

At this time she is receiving many of the newest styles. She always carries a large stock and the ladies of the community can always find something here that pleases them. She purchases her pattern hats from the leading dealers of the country and as a consequence she is always up-to-date. She only employs trimmers with good taste and experience so is able at all times to make up for you anything you wish according to your individual ideas.

She has adopted the latest idea in selling millinery, doing away with the special exhibits which only come at certain seasons and instead maintaining a complete line of the latest style hats throughout the year. Through this method Mi-Lady can obtain the latest New York or Chicago creations during any time of the year.

In this review it affords us great pleasure to recommend this firm to our readers and to suggest that they give the shop a trial and be convinced that this is the logical place when seeking anything in millinery.

S. C. Barnard

Located at Mount Sterling Conducts one of the Most Popular Ladies and Gents Furnishing Establishments in this Section, Featuring the Well Known Ed. V. Price Tailoring. "Who's Your Tailor." He Offers Highest Grade Goods, at most Reasonable Prices.

It is with a feeling of satisfaction that the customers enter this well known establishment. Realizing that the service and quality extended this year will be considered when the next season approaches, this well known house has chosen its stock with a view to giving its customers the greatest value possible.

When it comes to clothing they have lines which are so complete as to styles, cloth and price that the most particular can find something suitable. But the success of a dealer in this line rests not alone with the price which he pays for his garments. He must be an efficient buyer, well versed in the styles of the day and with a knowledge of the demands of his customers. It is this feature of the trade that has made this store so popular with the young men of this section.

It carries well known lines. They are high class and give the wearer the cast of a gentleman. And what has been said of their clothing department is equally true of their selling in ladies and gents furnishings. Their stock is made up of representative goods, articles of national reputation. The person who is particular as to their personal appearance can find just what they need at this store.

It has always been the endeavor of this firm to secure a fair and honest profit, but their business principles never permit an exorbitant one. They have provided the trade with a line of representative goods, a stock in which you can have every confidence, and articles of dress that render the character of your attire individual. They offer at a reasonable price and when the quality is considered, we will say extremely low, everything in ladies and mens furnishings.

The proprietor is a well known citizen distinguished for his honest and fair methods and his steady boosting for the home community. We wish to compliment him in this review.

Rassenfoss Bakery and Lunch Room

Located at Mount Sterling Conducts a Modern Bakery and Up-to-date Restaurant, Serving Palatable Foods and the Very Best Bakery Goods.

This well known concern is one of the most prominent in this section of the State. Its plant is modern and up-to-date in every particular, clean and sanitary throughout. The business is conducted along progressive lines and we are proud to say that it is a credit to this community.

To be able to make certain of getting absolutely good bread and bakery goods is a boon to the city. At this plant only the most healthful ingredients are used in the process of the manufacture. Analysis has proven them to be absolutely free from anything injurious and consequently they are not only health protecting but health giving.

A visit to the plant of this place is very interesting, the business has increased so rapidly that improvements have been made from time to time until today they are a model industry. Every thing in the place is kept clean as it is the policy of this business not only to make bakery goods that will pass inspection but turn out products that are as near an approach of the highest perfection that model machinery and up-to-date methods will permit.

If the public could only comprehend how these products are manufactured by these people—could only understand how absolutely pure and health giving they are—there would not be a family in this vicinity who would not be a patron of this concern.

The proprietor has been closely allied with the business interests of this section of the State for some time and has been instrumental in the upbuilding of this section of the country and the business which he is conducting, which should receive the patronage of the entire people.

The bakery and restaurant are operated entirely by Mr. Rassenfoss and his family.

W. A. Bondurant.

Since this well known firm has been in operation it has enjoyed an ever increasing patronage, because of the reasonableness of charges, the general excellence of work and reliability.

The establishment is splendidly equipped for all classes of dry cleaning and no work is too difficult to handle in the most satisfactory manner. A specialty is made of cleaning of ladies' garments while they have a list of men for whom they do this same class of work that includes almost every man in town who cares anything at all about his personal appearance. Their pressing of garments is always correctly done and promptly called for and delivered.

The dry cleaning system used not only cleans your clothes, but thoroughly renovates them in the most sanitary manner. It also turns them out in the most approved styles without the disagreeable odor that accompanies the work of so many cleaning establishments. The latest cleaning and renovating machinery in their establishment makes it possible for them to turn them out and handle them so that they look like new.

We are pleased to compliment them upon the satisfactory service that they render and to urge all of our readers that as regards cleaning and pressing they can do no better than to turn their work over to them.

Scott and Adcock

Located at Winchester, Have the Leading Real Estate and Insurance Agencies of this Section of the State. They Offer the Public all the Advantages of Modern Insurance Service. Phone 148.

In reviewing the business interests of this section it is indeed a pleasure to refer our readers to this agency, which takes great pride in the service it renders. It represents all the leading insurance companies of the country for any kind of insurance you desire. With such powerful organizations behind it it is able to offer the public the most reliable insurance to be found and combined with its personal service means that no detail is overlooked and that your wants are taken care of in the best possible manner.

Insurance is as necessary as the bread we eat, for only by the protection offered are we able to expand and improve our homes and business, to say nothing of the personal protection given by life insurance. If you have carried what you thought sufficient to cover the loss of your home if destroyed from any cause, you have been wise, but have you provided for the great increase in the cost of building material, by increasing your insurance, to rebuild if your home should be destroyed? If not it will pay you to get in touch with this well-known firm.

Whatever you may need in the way of insurance they have it and they only represent such companies as they can personally recommend. We would suggest that for insurance and Bluegrass farms that you get in touch with this agency.

Looking Ahead

The discouraged farmer and the encouraged farmer must both look ahead because 1922 is here with its many problems. And of all farming problems the fertility problem is the ever present one. The cover page of the Southern Agriculturist carries the following concerning looking ahead:

Obviously, then, the farmer who wants a profit from his farming—and every sane farmer does—must think first of all of the fertility of his land. He must neglect nothing that will make his land more productive; he must never forget the welfare of his fields. Upon their welfare, more than upon anything else outside of himself, his own welfare depends. Good farming in 1922, as in the years past—ever more, probably, than in most years past—demands unremitting attention on the part of the successful farmer to the enrichment of his land. He must plan his crop rotations and his system of farming with that idea in view; he must grow legumes and sow pastures; he must keep livestock to consume much—usually most—of his crop production; he must save manure and study fertilizers; he must use lime where needed; he must save from fire the vegetable matter the soil needs; he must prevent erosion and remove surplus water from wet lands. In a word, he must consider first the soil and its welfare. If he does this, most needed things will sooner or later be added to him. For the man who takes care of his land is the man who stays on the farm and finds pleasure and prosperity there; the man who neglects his land is the man who leaves the farm because tired of it or from necessity.

Farming is a permanent business. No good farmer runs his farming on a one year basis. The good farmer looks ahead and plans for the future. He thinks of next year's crops as well as of this year's. This means, of course, that he thinks about preserving his soil and improving it. That is what makes him a good farmer. Let's all be that kind of farmers this year.

Tanlac is made of roots, herbs and barks and contains no minerals or opiates.

Timely Hints on Poultry

Kentucky farmers have an opportunity to realize greater profits from their poultry flocks if they will hatch their pullets early in order for them to start laying next fall and winter when eggs are high priced, according to suggestions being made by the College of Agriculture. The first hatch should be out by March 1st and the last one not later than May 1st in order for farmers to take advantage of the opportunity to have winter eggs.

Fresh eggs are highest in the late fall and winter because hens stop laying, the poultrymen say. However, Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and Rhode Island Red pullets begin laying when about seven months old and if hatched early, will supply eggs after hens stop laying. Leghorns, Minorcas and hens of lighter breeds begin laying when about six months old.

Furniture and Undertaking

Located at Mount Sterling—Conducts a Modern Furniture and Undertaking Establishment Enjoys the Patronage from the city and Surrounding Territory. Agents for the Brunswick Phonograph.

This establishment is one of the firms that is not satisfied with a stock of a few chairs, tables and bed room sets. When they set out to sell Furniture to the people of this part of the State, they determined to keep in stock just about everything that there is in the Furniture line. Anyone who has ever purchased from them, or have ever been in their store will have to acknowledge that they have succeeded.

They are agents for Seelers Kitchen Cabinets and Hoover Vacuum Cleaners. This wonderful machine cleans as it sweeps.

And when we say Furniture, we do not mean merely tables, chairs, bookcases and beds, we mean library tables, davenport, full suites for every room as well as individual pieces.

But their activities are by no means confined to their Furniture store. Their Undertaking department is in charge of one of the most progressive funeral directors in this vicinity and consequently has kept in close touch with everything modern in their line, and this applies to the art of embalming in which they and their capable assistants are experts, operating as they do, according to the latest and most scientific methods known to the present time. As is well known, they have conducted some of the largest funerals held in this section in most admirable manner, and their excellent facilities made it possible for them to render complete service.

The management is in the hands of competent business men whose dealings have won for them a prominent place in the life of the community. We wish to direct your special attention to this establishment as one of the distinctive features of the commercial efficiency of the county, and to its management as among our leading business people and valued citizens.

Montgomery Motor Company

Located at Mt. Sterling—Are the Authorized Sales and Service Agent for the Studebaker Motor Car—They also handle Cooper Storage Batteries, Victor-Springfield Tires.

When a person decides to buy an automobile they have in many cases determined in what class they will purchase but what car in this class is altogether another matter. If they are looking for a car of universal value they do not have far to go for when they come to the Studebaker they are at once satisfied. This sounds like a rather broad statement but it is true nevertheless for if one is contemplating the purchase of a car they always tell their friends and among their friends is always a Studebaker booster who never fails to tell the many good points of the Studebaker.

This wonderful car has won its reputation by its actual tests on the road, under all kinds of road conditions and this is where the real test of a car comes, testing its ability to stand up under all kinds of treatment. A person may say, "I don't expect to give my car any hard use," that all may be true, but if a car will stand up under the hardest kind of use possible to give it, it will do a great deal better under ordinary conditions.

This is not the only feature of this car as the initial cost is very reasonable and the cost of upkeep has astonished many of its purchasers. It is a car that is not hard on tires and its riding comfort is distinctive. The steering gear and gear shift are made in such a manner that they are very easy to operate and this is the reason that you see so many women and children driving them on the streets every day. These are some of the reasons that the Studebaker has come to be looked upon as the leader in its class and we can do no better than to refer our readers to this popular concern.

The management of this agency is in the hands of men who are latter day business men in every respect and their salesmen are courteous and accommodating and will take great pleasure in giving you a practical demonstration of what the Studebaker will do. Therefore we take great pleasure in this review in directing those of our readers who are thinking of purchasing in this class, to this agency.

This is another Studebaker year.

The Walsh Company

(Incorporated.)

Located at Mount Sterling is one of the Foremost Clothing and Men's Wear Establishments in this Section. They Feature Kuppenheimer Ready-made Clothes.

There is nothing so important to the commercial development of the modern city as an up-to-date establishment where the men of the community can satisfy their demands for clothing and haberdashery. This is the day and age when the men of all ages must be neatly attired in clothing of distinction and quality. If they have to do their shopping along these lines in some distant city, the home community suffers accordingly.

In this part of the State the needs, desires and demands of the male population are more than satisfied at this well known store. The progressive establishment is strictly modern and up-to-date and is stocked with a class of goods that would do credit to a much larger city. Just at present they are well prepared to serve men of all ages and ideas and have an immense stock of all newest and most attractive designs.

Mount Sterling Bottling Works

Located at Mount Sterling are Manufacturers and Bottlers of High Grade Soda Waters—Featuring the Popular Our Cola Brand.

This well known bottling works is deserving of more than passing notice in this review of the onward progress of the community, as they are perhaps the largest producers of soda waters in this section of the State, their brand being a standard of quality and is so recognized by the trade for a radius of many miles.

Their products are popular because their plant is most modern and they have realized the popular demand for pure and wholesome refreshments. Therefore they have gone farther than the pure food law requires and turn out a product that is entirely free from impurities as well as being delicious and wholesome.

Many pure food experts have ruled that soda water when properly made is a food product containing life-giving, energizing substances essential to build up the bodies of children and grown-ups. The value of the sugar alone in a bottle of soda is of such importance the commission will permit no substitute.

The eruptions produced by the carbonated water, which contains a predominating sodium content, not only cleanses the mucous membrane of the stomach, but also in passing into the intestines, digestion and nutrition are assisted thereby.

The plant is a credit to the community and is open at all times to the inspection of the public, and the public is cordially invited. Few cities many times larger can boast of such a modern and scientifically equipped bottling works.

The brand is very popular about the country, being handled by all first-class retail dealers.

We are pleased to point with pride to the establishment and recommend the class of goods that they are furnishing to the trade and assure everyone that when they order soda waters or Our Cola, they will get the very best.

In making this review of the onward progress of our community it would be very unjust to fail to mention this well known concern and the famous line of cars for which they are agents. When the management of this firm decided to take on the Buick automobile they displayed rare judgment in their selection and that their choice was a good one is evidenced by the great number of cars to be seen in use daily in this section.

Anyone familiar with the automobile business and with the many different makes of cars that can be found in any city are always ready to give praise to the Buick car and its superior qualities.

There is no need to go into extensive detail as to the construction of these cars, but you all know that the famous overhead valve system first adopted by the Buick company, and since adopted by many other cars in a modified degree, is the secret of the great success that this car has attained.

To build a car that will work successfully under all conditions, delivering to the owner all that any automobile user could ask in the way of performance and at the same time be extreme in the low cost of upkeep has been the aim of the Buick company. That they have succeeded we all know and we wish to compliment their local agents for having given people of this section such an opportunity to purchase real car values.

The management is in the hands of men who are well known in business circles of this community and have carried the progressive and boosting spirit that they have shown in all affairs pertaining to expansion and upbuilding of this section into their business. By the practice of fair dealing with the public they have won a reputation that is well warranted and that the people have confidence in them is evidenced by the many people that come to their salesroom to have the many little motor troubles that come up, ironed out.

We wish to compliment this firm for the great part it is playing in the onward progress of our community, and for the selection of merchandise they offer the public.

Kentucky Wesleyan College

Through the progressive efforts of this valuable institution the younger generation of this section is now offered the educational advantages of any of the larger cities of the state. It is not often that counties like this can boast of such an up-to-date institution like this one. Not only can young men and young women in this county secure a general education, but through this college they can prepare themselves for their life's work.

This is a day and age of business efficiency. The man or woman who is not prepared to keep pace with the demands of the present day business efficiency is soon lost in the hurry and bustle of modern methods. It is not necessary that one become a machine, but it is absolutely essential that everyone who wishes to be successful in a business have practical business education, and such training can only be secured in an institution devoted to preparing its pupils for business life.

They have very modern up-to-date buildings, and college trained teachers which enables the young people of this and adjoining territory to secure an adequate education.

The management of this school is progressive, able and efficient and has built for themselves and school a reputation of accomplishment and honesty and their untiring efforts merit a liberal support from the people of this section.

This college is one of the leading institutions of its kind in the country and has contributed in no small measure to the fame and prosperity of the middle-west.

There is an undefinable something that this school is building around, which is more durable than its concrete pillars; which will abide when people and measures are forgotten, which is as lasting as the blue grass landscapes which your children will be telling when you are gone.

It offers the people of this county the advantages of a modern, progressive and efficient college right here almost at their very door and in this special edition we wish to urge that this is the logical school for students.

Miller's Cash Store

(Incorporated.)

Located at Winchester, One of the Leading Department Stores in this Section of the State, Every Department Being Filled with Quality Goods of Standard Makes, which affords the People a Real Shopping Center.

A business review of this county would not be complete without the mention of this well-known concern, which is doing more than its bit toward the reduction of the high cost of living. Just now when there is such a clamor for lower prices this popular department store is taking the lead and slashing prices even though in many cases it loses its own profits in doing it. This store has always had the buying power and for years has bought in such large quantities that it was able to save many dollars for its customers annually. Today is no exception and this store will buy its replenishing stock at the bottom price and will offer it to the people of these counties at as reasonable a price as any other concern in this section.

W. Hoffman Wood The Man Who Sells The Earth

Located at Mount Sterling—is Headquarters in this Section for Anything in the Real Estate Line—Specializing in Clark, Montgomery and Powell County's Blue Grass Farms, Enjoys the Patronage and Confidence From all the Surrounding Territory.

In this day and age when conservative men are constantly seeking investments where they are not only assured a permanent source of income but a reasonably certainty of increasing in value the real estate dealer is doing more than his share to meet the demands of such men. This locality is indeed fortunate in having in its midst such a firm as this well known agency.

He has for years been closely identified with the growth and the expansion of this section and has made a close study of real estate conditions, so that he could offer both the buying and the selling public the very best of service. He has on his books a large list of most desirable properties for sale, both town and country at prices and terms that cannot fail to be attractive to the intending purchaser and has made many important deals in this section.

He has always made it a point not to list property for sale for more than its true value, and this is where his close study of local conditions renders him an authority on values. In all transactions his word is as good as his bond, and people have come to look to him when seeking a desirable medium through which he may dispose of their property.

We take pleasure in this review in referring to this well known man to our readers and assure them that whenever they have property of any kind to offer they can locate the best buyer by listing their property with him. Such a man as he aids materially in the growth and expansion of this community.

H. Gordon-Poultry

Located at Mount Sterling—is one of the Well Known Institutions of this Section That Pays the Top of the Market at All Times for Hides, Furs, Wool, Live Poultry, Eggs and Scrap Iron.—Phone 460.

This is one of the institutions that has materially aided in the development of this section of the State and has especially been instrumental in aiding the progress of diversified farming in the community. They furnish the farmer with a most advantageous market for poultry and eggs, and therefore operate an institution that is of great economical value to the public. Their prices are far more favorable than would be secured by the people if they had to ship elsewhere, for it is a well known fact that this house pays the top of the market at all times.

One of the recognized principles of farming along scientific lines today is the raising of poultry and livestock. It is because of the excellent service and the desirable market afforded by such houses as this one that this feature is receiving more attention from the farmer of today and practically noticeable in this community where the producer knows that he will receive the highest price for his poultry and eggs.

Another feature of the very satisfactory service of this popular house is the courtesy and accommodation which marks their dealing with the producer.

Ask your neighbor who pays the top prices.

Piersall's Garage

Located at Winchester—Is the Authorized Sales and Service Agents for the Willys-Knight and Overland Motor Cars.

When anyone connected with the automobile business hears the word Willys-Knight they know at once it is a car of real universal value. This may sound like a rather broad statement, but it is true nevertheless. The motor is not the only good feature of this car, as it is an uncommonly good automobile in every respect. The design, finish, appointments, comfort and convenience of any of the models are very attractive and are distinctively Willys-Knight.

In this day and age when the internal combustion engine, as applied to the automobile has reached a stage where it would be practically impossible to perfect it to much greater extent, the Overland people have therefore turned their attention to the other great questions confronting the motor car builder of today, namely that of riding comfort.

To this end their engineers have worked, and, as a result have perfected the greatest improvement since the introduction of pneumatic tires, that of the three point cantilever springs. This spring solves the Problem of Combining Riding Comfort with light weight and economy. These are the finest springs of their kind and are exclusively Overland and produced by Overland engineers. These springs are made of Chrome Vanadium steel which stands all kinds of stresses to the utmost extent. They prolong the wheel base to 100 in.

and the spring base to 130 in. To any one conversant with motor cars they can realize what this means to the light weight car.

These springs are not the only advantageous features of this well known car as its equipment includes Slanting Rain Vision Wind Shield, Auto-Lite starter and lighting system, Electric Horn, Marshall Divan upholstery, Tillotson Carburetor, U. S. L. batteries and many other high-quality conveniences. It would be impossible to enumerate all the advantages in having this wonderful car, but we take great pleasure in directing you to this local dealer, who will be pleased to explain it further to you and we are safe in saying that a ride in this car will make one more Overland booster.

In this review we take pleasure in referring to this well known firm and commend the manager in the rare judgment displayed in securing the agency for these cars and feel sure that they could have secured no better piece of merchandise to offer to the public.

The Overland has been tested and has proven its merits and its low cost of operation. On a straight run from New York to San Francisco it averaged 25.2 miles per gallon of gasoline and recently on a test in the winter over all kinds of Kentucky roads it covered 24.2 miles for each gallon of gasoline used. This is certainly a remarkable showing.

Since this well known firm has been engaged in the drug business, its popularity has grown until it is known to practically everybody in this section and has won for itself a well merited reputation for honesty and fair dealings with all its fast increasing list of names.

The first requisite of any successful business must be courtesy, then quality at the right price must be offered. This has been the above concern's policy in conducting its business. ### Foley's Has Never Failed

January is a bad month for influenza, la grippe and bronchial troubles. It is unwise to neglect the slightest cough or cold. Mrs. F. A. Gibson, 1547 College Ave., Racine, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar has never failed in giving immediate relief and I am never without it." Children like it.—Sherman Robins & Sons local agents.

Agin' Evolution

The following from the Danville Messenger represents our feelings upon a very important and prominent question. We are informed that many of the teachers in our high schools as well as State University are teaching evolution, which theory preceptibly controverts the teachings of the bible as stated below:

Buy Government Savings Bonds

Postmaster Mrs. Carrie Groves states that she has received an announcement from the United States Treasury Department that that part of northern Kentucky comprising the Lexington area of the Fourth Federal Reserve District, which includes this community, hereafter will function in the sale of Government Savings Securities through the Fourth Federal Reserve Bank, of Cleveland, Ohio, instead of the Eighth Federal Reserve Bank, of St. Louis, Missouri. This means that northern Kentucky is to be joined with Ohio in the sale of Government Savings Securities, and as the Buckeye state has continuously led all other states in the sale of these securities ever since they were first put on sale, during the war, the sales in Kentucky must be materially increased to keep pace with the Ohioans.

The new 1922 Treasury Savings Certificates are now available in denominations of $1000, $100 and $25, at cost prices of $800, $80 and $20 respectively. These certificates pay 4.5 per cent interest compounded semi-annually if held until maturity, 5 years from date of issue. They can, however, be redeemed any time prior to maturity, in which event interest is paid at the rate of 3.5 per cent compounded semi-annually. They are free from all state and local taxes, and any individual, corporation or partnership can own up to $5000 worth of this issue. They are issued in registerable form only, insuring the owner against all loss, and are always worth more than they cost, as they are not subject to any market fluctuations.

Postmaster Mrs. Groves is now ready to receive applications for the purchase of these certificates, and any additional information can also be secured from the Savings Division, Fourth Federal Reserve District, Columbus, Ohio.

amous Baptist preacher of Lexington, is "agin" the Darwinian theory of evolution and doesn't give a hoot who knows it, says the Interior Journal. The Doctor proposes to have a bill introduced into the general assembly forbidding the teaching of the Darwinian theory in Kentucky. He says: "The public schools do not teach Christianity and they should not be permitted to teach infidelity."

The Interior Journal agrees with Dr. Porter. For ourselves, we take the story of the creation as fact, not as an allegory. It is our firm belief that "out of the dust of the ground" our first ancestor Adam was made by a Power great enough to do that very thing. We also are as firmly convinced now as in our Sunday school days of childhood that Eve was originally one of Adam's ribs—a poor one, it may be, but still a rib—and we are like the old Methodist who, in disputing with an agnostic, said it warn't no use nohow to argufy with me, fer I believe the hull book from kiver to kiver."

We do not know much about the Darwinian theory, except that it is a theory of the origin of man and that it doesn't agree with the Biblical version—tail. That being the case, we are like Dr. Porter and his Baptist brethren—we're "agin'" it.

People who have been helped by Tanlac are always anxious and willing to tell others about it.
